Homework

Story:

You are the web designer for a new restaurant that's about to open! It's your job to make the online menu look as appetizing as the food itself. The website needs a bit more information and some visual magic to really make it stand out.

Your Task:

• Add a New Menu Category

The restaurant has introduced a new section on their menu called "Chef's Specials." Create a new grid item for this category under the "Our Menu" section, just like the others (Appetizers, Main Courses, etc.). Include an image, title, and short description of these special dishes.

• Style Your New Section

Make sure the "Chef's Specials" category fits well with the existing menu items. Adjust the background color, text size, and spacing to ensure it blends in but still stands out.

Question for You:

What did you enjoy most about designing the restaurant's website? Did you face any challenges while adding the new menu category?
